

Theodore Roosevelt Conservation Partnership

What You Should Know...

- State Wildlife Action Plans call for best management practices, scientific research, and habitat restoration to prevent wildlife species from becoming so rare that it becomes too expensive or impossible to save them.
- State Wildlife Grants are federal funds to implement State Wildlife Action Plans.
- We have had great success with on-the-ground conservation work but we STILL NEED more state and federal dollars from your state fish & wildlife agencies to continue this work.

What Hunters & Anglers Can Do

- Tell policy makers you want better State Wildlife Grant funding for healthy habitat and wildlife and the future of hunting and fishing.
- Leverage State Wildlife Grants by supporting additional license fees and voluntary donations.
- Apply for wildlife project grants that can be done with volunteers.
- Work as a volunteer on State Wildlife Grant projects with other hunters and anglers.
